Craig's Machine Does Not Stop for Indignant Piedmont Taxpayers

Program of High Valuations Goes Through Despite Vigorous Protests

"Moved by Waldron, seconded by Munson, that the application be denied. All in favor say 'Aye,' contrary minded 'No.' The ayes have it. Next!" Mayor Hugh C. Craig's voice intoning the above announcement over one hundred times with the regularity of a well-wound phonograph was the sum and substance of last night's meeting of the Piedmont town board of equalization, at which the Craig program of six million dollars' increased assessments was shoved along with cheerful disregard of the speed limits.

CRACKSMEN WERE FRIGHTENED AWAY

did not notice the charge already in the door this morning, because of the blackened surface and scratches caused by the first explosion.

As soon as a hammer and chisel were brought into play the nitro-glycerine exploded with terrific force, hurling the workmen backward, and wrecking what remained of the safe.

The police are now bending their energies to learn what frightened the cracksmen away so suddenly. No report of anyone having heard the first explosion was made to the police.

With startling daring, the gang of cracksmen who dynamited the safe of the Theo. Gier Wine company Sunday night, attempted to break into the saloon of J. Germain, tenth and Brush streets, last night, according to the belief of the police. The men were interrupted after having pried open the door with a crowbar similar to that used in effecting entrance to the Gier building and also that used at Milan & Dan's two weeks.

Patrolman Connolly, who approached the corner shortly before one o'clock this morning, saw two men acting in a suspicious manner. When he approached them, they separated and made their escape in the darkness.

Connolly returned to the saloon and found that the door had been forced, but that nothing had been taken. The indications pointed to the attempted burglary having been the work of the gang of cracksmen who have been operating so successfully in Oakland for the past two weeks.

Inspectors St. Clair Hodgkins and Thomas Gallagher are cooperating with the San Francisco police in investigating the safe blowing at the Germain building, in which the cracksmen obtained about $200. The same men have carried through several similar jobs in San Francisco, and the police are in doubt as to which side of the bay is being used as the headquarters of the gang.

might break forth any moment and the patient bled to death. The wound was as it is a deep gash with a big knife through the skin and muscles, and then burned with a hot iron.

RETAINS CONSCIOUSNESS.

"The fact that the patient survived the heavy shock is most remarkable in the first place," said Dr. Reinle. "In all my experience I have never seen such a case. The wound in itself is probably fatal and the fact that the patient retains his consciousness under such conditions is most strange of all."

The men were working under the direction of S. P. Cookwood, general foreman of overhead construction. Miller and Morgan were on a tower which carries the high tension power lines that cross the estuary between still higher towers. The wires carry electricity to the Alameda mole from the transforming station in East Oakland, where current from the mountain generating stations is handled and distributed over the Southern Pacific local system.

Both of the men were experienced employees, having followed their occupation for many years.

Miller is married and has a wife in East Oakland. He is about 55 years old.

LOSES VALUABLES DURING NIGHT TOUR

Wife of Theatrical Manager Finds Draft for $3400 Is Missing.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—A slumming expedition through the old Tenderloin, which included a visit to Coppola's, Caesar's, the Midway, and a visit to the Thalia, proved expensive this morning to Mrs. C. Muehlman, wife of a local theatrical manager, who resides at the fashionable Bellevue Hotel.

Mrs. Muehlman was entertaining a party of friends and following a visit at the theater, it was decided that they would view the night life through Chinatown and the Barbary Coast district just as she was leaving the Thalia at 2 o'clock this morning, she discovered that she had been robbed, or had lost a silver vanity purse containing a draft for $3400 drawn on the First National Bank, $12 in cash and two theater passes. Policeman Brady was immediately notified and accompanied the party on a return visit to the various resorts. Mrs. Muehlman is almost certain that she had her purse when she and her friends were watching the dancing at the Midway.

BECKER AGAIN GETS DELAY 'DEN' OWNERS ARE ALARMED

DISTRICT ATTORNEY C. S. WHITMAN OF NEW YORK, WHO IS VIGOROUSLY PROSECUTING THE POLICE GRAFT CASES.

Accused Police Lieutenant Secures Another Postponement of Pleading

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—John F. McIntyre, counsel for Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, indicted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, obtained a delay today in the case until September 3 by serving a writ staying the proceedings. The writ was served on Assistant District Attorney Rubin and Judge Mulqueen of the court of general sessions before whom Becker was to have been arraigned today for pleading. Supreme Court Justice Amos issued the writ.

Becker was arraigned last Tuesday for pleading, but his counsel obtained an adjournment until today. Today, professing to be not ready to go on, McIntyre obtained the writ on the ground that he needed more time to make any motions he might deem necessary. Members of the extraordinary grand jury summoned to inquire into police blackmail will be investigated as to their real estate holdings by District Attorney Whitman who has discovered that one of the grand jury panel of fifty business is part owner of a hotel used for disreputable purposes.

The news that police Commissioner Waldron would publish a list of owners of gambling and disorderly houses has caused a panic among the owners, who have deluged the commissioner with frantic appeals not to make their names public.

It was stated on good authority that District Attorney Whitman came into possession of additional evidence today through a letter from John D. Hallen, a disbarred lawyer, who was recently sentenced to Sing Sing for forgery. Hallen is alleged to have overheard a conversation between Becker and Policeman White, a former member of Becker's strong-arm squad, who has been indicted for perjury in connection with the arrest of "Big Jack" Zelig. Hallen writes that he heard White say to Becker: "Shut your big trap; in six months they will be giving us medals for what we did." Becker is alleged to have responded.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 27.—The present government in China will be of short duration, in the opinion of Commodore C. J. Eyres, R. N., formerly commander on the British squadron at Hongkong. The commodore passed through Vancouver last night on route from Hongkong to England.

"I look for another upheaval in China soon," he said. "The new regime there will not last long. The idea seems to prevail over here that everything is lovely in China, but the reverse is the case. The present government will be of short duration and the overthrow will come when we least expect it."

Maniac Tries to Shoot Up Hotel; Is Fatally Wounded

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Guests of a small Michigan avenue hotel were panic-stricken early today when an unidentified man strolled into the lobby and announced that he was "going to kill everybody in sight."

Drawing a revolver, he fired three shots at Ross Odell, the clerk, who returned the fire, sending five bullets into his assailant's body. The man probably was fatally injured. The police believe he is insane. Odell was uninjured.

PROPERTY OWNERS 'TURNED DOWN'

Protests Against Assessments of No Avail at Equalizers' Session.

"SIT DOWN," SAYS CRAIG.

Engs continued to stand, first on one foot and then on the other, until Craig exclaimed.

"Sit down; you make me nervous." Engs sat, but a little later he arose again in remonstrance and Craig once more shouted to him to "sit down."

The board had evidently made up its mind long before the meeting as to just how it stood and the session only served to bring out the wide difference in opinion as to the value of Piedmont real estate, especially that portion yet in "the wilderness," which is held by some to be the most exclusive and which building restrictions have made attractive only to wealthy people.

OBTAINS FIGURES.

Craig had provided himself with figures on lots in Crocker Highlands and in the Crocker tract, which he said had been quoted to him by salesmen in the offices of the Wickham Havens Company. These prices averaged $80 and $90 a front foot.

Engs' reply was that even if the company were to ask $150 a front foot that was not a criterion of its assessable value, as the last actual sale made in the Crocker tract was in January of this year to Walter Starr, who selected a choice lot and paid $50 a front foot for it. No other lots had been sold even at that figure. Piedmont's assessments this year for this tract were $50 for inside lots and $55 for the corner lots. Engs contended that the actual cash value of the property was only $30 per front foot, as the property was being sold on long-term payments without taxes for two years and the street work was not to be done. He contended that a high-class tract such as the Crocker was the biggest asset Piedmont had, but that if an exorbitant assessment was made, it would mean that the building restrictions would have to be lessened and the property forced on the market for what they could get for it.

STEAM ROLLER AT WORK.

To Traffic Waldron's suggestion that the contemplated general reduction of 30 per cent would bring the assessment within reasonable figures, Engs replied that the proportion would remain the same and that the Havens interests would still be paying an unreasonable assessment when compared with other properties on Hillside and Bonita avenues that were more valuable and assessed at the same figure as the outlying acreage.

The steam roller was thereupon called into play and the applications flattened out.

The old Havens homestead of 23 acres was also treated to a substantial raise though Engs contended that the property, which lies below the street level and most of it in a canyon, was useless for subdivision purposes and would be sold for a small sum to Frank C. Havens' peculiar taste.

Frank J. Woodward, the real estate operator, testified under oath that the cash value of the place was only $3000 an acre, or $69,000 in all. Nevertheless, he had offered to sell the property for $139,800 to $118,500, which was to the accompaniment of a sarcastic "toot-toot" from the audience.

HELPS SOME.

A moment later the board, on the recommendation of Assessor Staiger, cut the assessment of one Havens lot from $750 to $450.

"Every little bit helps," observed Engs, amidst general hilarity.

The increased assessments on Piedmont Park were also maintained despite the vociferous objections of Attorney Engs to a valuation of $4000 an acre on seven and a half acres, which lie in a canyon at the lower end of the park and which, he contends, had walls too steep for a building site. Woodward placed a valuation on the property of $750 an acre.

"I suppose a cat couldn't walk up the side of that gulch," observed Craig with firm sarcasm, and Woodward, who misunderstood the question, replied, "Oh, yes, you could." Then he wondered at the outburst of laughter.

W. M. Alexander's application for a reduction on the Baldwin property from $82,600 to $44,700 was denied though Alexander submitted a written statement that he had been authorized to sell the property at $80,000.

ON THE FAST EXPRESS.

When it came to Walter Lelmer's turn to speak in behalf of fifty-two applications on property in Crocker Highlands, Central Piedmont and Alta Heights, Craig wanted to know if the remarks were going to be serious.

"No fear," was Lelmer's reply, "the train won't stop long enough for that."

Lelmer contended that though Crocker Highlands was being offered at $50 and $60 per front foot, it was 25 per cent to market the property and that the land was being sold on long-term payments with no interest for the first two years.

BECOMES HEIST.

Lelmer talked so convincingly that the board forgot itself for a moment and granted a reduction of $200 per front foot. Immediately afterward the action was rescinded and the assessment permitted to stand. The board promised to investigate the matter.

A triangular lot assessed at $1500 brought an angry protest from Lelmer, who insisted that the valuation was absurd as the lot could never be sold as a building site because of its shape and location.

"I'll sell that lot to any member of this board," he cried, "for $300 and on term payments."

No one took him up, but Craig remarked:

"I wish you would not interrupt the chair when it is taking a vote. Confine your remarks to the proper time."

Over one hundred and fifty applications were acted upon and of these not more than twenty were granted any relief. In no case was the applicant granted what he asked for.

The board will meet again tomorrow evening.

"What Letters Does Hearst Mean Anyway?" Asks the Colonel.

were written solely for the record. They were genuine letters and expressed just what I wanted to express when I first heard of the report that the Standard Oil company had contributed or wanted to contribute to my campaign."

William Randolph Hearst's statement in London Sunday finds Roosevelt still wondering, he said, what letters Hearst has to make to public on the alleged Standard Oil campaign contributions.

WHAT LETTERS.

"If Mr. Hearst will let me know within a year or year and a half of the date these letters were written and to whom they were written," Roosevelt said today, "I will make them public myself. Any one can readily appreciate how difficult it would be for me to go through my entire correspondence for a number of years to find a letter in which I referred to this matter. It would be a tremendous undertaking. I do not think I ever wrote Mr. Sibley on this matter, although I may have done so. I can't find any letter to him."

Roosevelt said he hoped to finish his letter to Senator Clapp before he departed at midnight tomorrow on his three-day campaign trip through Vermont. He had been delayed, he said, by his failure to receive a copy of John D. Archibald's testimony before the Senate committee. This testimony, he added, had been mailed him and should reach him today. The letter will be made public by Roosevelt, probably at an hour shortly after it should be received by Senator Clapp.

M'NAB MEASURE GIVEN APPROVAL

Proposed Opium Law Drawn by U. S. Attorney Is Endorsed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—United States District Attorney John L. McNab who some time ago drafted a bill looking to the suppression of the opium traffic in which it was provided that the owners should be held responsible for contraband drugs found on board their vessels, received word from Washington today that his suggestions had largely been adopted. His bill has been quoted in a resolution drawn up by Hamilton Wright of the Department of State, which was introduced into congress and adopted by the committee. It will probably become a law. A copy of the bill was received by Attorney McNab today. It is sweeping in its provisions and places the responsibility for opium smuggling on the vessel itself. It is provided that the total amount of opium found on board a steamer shall be valued at its market price for the purpose of a fine. The fine will be the actual value of the drug and if it is not paid the vessel can be sold to satisfy the law.

The drawing up of this bill by the department of State indicates the importance attached by the government to the suppression of the opium traffic.

'BIG INTERESTS' STILL WAGE WAR ON KNOWLAND

Fight Against Canal Bill to Be Resumed
When Congress Reopens

Congressman Joseph R. Knowland was given an enthusiastic reception last night at a great meeting held in Enterprise hall under the auspices of the Irish American League. The hall was crowded with many of the members of the organization who often interrupted the speaker to applaud him. Knowland told of the efforts still being made by the big transcontinental interests against the free tolls and anti-railroad sections of the Panama Canal measure which has just been signed by President Taft. Knowland made it plain that the interests would make every effort to repeal this legislation, for which Knowland made a splendid and successful fight and that Knowland himself had been picked as a target by the interests because of his championship of the measure. Knowland said, in part: "Those who imagined that the fight to prevent railroad domination of the Panama Canal and in favor of free tolls for American ships was non when the President affixed his signature to the canal bill on Saturday last have suddenly awakened to the fact that the great interests which opposed these provisions have already started a contest to repeal them. Congressman Sims of Tennessee, one of the members of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce of which I am a member, is the individual who is taking the lead against the interests of the Pacific Coast."

Mr. Sims before Congress adjourned, introduced a bill to repeal the free toll provision, declaring that the committee was with him. It is true that the committee is with him for they were against me throughout that entire fight. Every witness I placed upon the stand was subjected to strenuous cross examination in order to break down the testimony. They cast their votes in committee against me at every turn. They voted me down when the bill was reported out, and I shall be glad to go back to Washington in December and again face these enemies, and again subject them to another humiliating defeat. I will be only too pleased to again meet face to face the representatives of the transcontinental railroads, the Canadian railroads and the foreign shipping trust. I know their arguments, and we of the Pacific Coast are prepared to meet them.

TO CONTINUE FIGHT.

Great interests do not surrender so easily. Well they know that another Congress convenes before the canal is open and that until this great waterway is completed there is an opportunity to repeal this most beneficial legislation. Every trick known to lobbyists will be taken advantage of every influence that can be brought to bear will be utilized, but the people of the country are becoming thoroughly aroused to the importance of this legislation and they will not submit to its repeal."

MANY ADDRESSES.

In addition to speaking at a number of manufacturing plants in North and West Oakland and West Berkeley, where he addressed large gatherings of employees who gave him enthusiastic reception, Knowland spoke at three big meetings last night. In addition to his speech at Enterprise hall he addressed a large gathering of men and women at Portuguese hall, Thirtieth and Union streets, and another at the hall of the Rock-Hedge Improvement Club, College avenue, near Lawton avenue.

The hall was crowded with Knowland supporters, who voiced their approval of the Congressman in no uncertain terms. Amongst the speakers were Supervisors John F. Mulliney, William B. Joseph and Mrs. Lucy Barker of the Elmhurst Knowland-to-Win Club.

RED TAPE BINDS PLANT GUARDIANS

New Horticultural Commission
Waiting for Ruling as to District Rights.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The Federal Horticultural Commission appointed under the plant quarantine law, passed a few days ago, to keep diseased trees, plants and seeds out of the United States, cannot begin active operations pending a decision by the Comptroller of the Treasury as to whether the commission may spend money for salaries from the District of Columbia.

While no salaries are to be paid to the members of the commission, who are Department of Agriculture officials, with other regular duties, an executive officer will be needed to handle the details of carrying the law into effect.

In the case of the Appalachian and White Mountain Forest Commission, a similar question arose, and the Comptroller decided that no salary could be paid to an executive officer located in the District of Columbia.

C. L. Marshall, assistant of the Bureau of Entomology, who was named chairman of the commission, is now on his way to Hawaii to study the fruit fly which has been attacking most of the fruits of the island, and against which California already has taken some drastic measures.

It is feared that Moto Moyas will attempt to make good his threat and the home of the girl is being guarded as a matter of precaution.

No More Ragtime in Los Angeles Hotels

Syncopation at An End in the Cafes of Southern Caravansaries.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—Ragtime music has been banished from the cafes of the largest hotels of Los Angeles. The managers thought for a while that their guests enjoyed syncopation, but of late there have been many little complaints to the effect that a change would be desirable.

The musicians, almost with tears in their eyes, implored the proprietors to be allowed to mingle the "rag" with a few classics.

When the Federated Women's Clubs of Southern California denounced ragtime, however, the hotel men decided that something must be done and as a result ragtime was banished and classics restored to the programs.

SIDEWALK SWEEPERS MUST OBEY THE LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Following a number of complaints received in the mayor's office which were communicated to Chief of Police White last night, orders were issued to members of the force this morning to enforce ordinance 641 providing for the manner of sweeping sidewalks. The patrolmen in the several districts were warned that if mechanics persisted in sweeping dust and dirt into the gutters about the city, the officers on the beat would be likely to be brought on the carpet. According to Chief White nearly every storekeeper is in the habit of cleaning and sweeping the sidewalk in front of his place of business and deliberately placing the dirt on the pavement. This is a violation of the law which requires that the dirt be scooped up and placed in a barrel.

December 16, 1773

A little affair occurred in New England that went down in history as

The Boston Tea Party

"There's a Reason"

An English King had told his subject colonists that if they drank tea they must pay a tax on it—an unjust tax that made revenue, not for Americans but for Englishmen.

It was a tax that increased the high cost of living of those days—and our forefathers went to the wharf where the tea ships were moored, split open the tea chests and spilled their contents into Boston Harbor, thus producing the largest and most expensive bowl of tea the world has ever seen.

Today

Is repeated practically the same thing.

The Brazilian Coffee Trust, operated by foreign money kings, working outside the control of our National Anti-trust laws, have imposed a tax upon American Citizens which has raised the price of even the cheap grade of coffee from 15c to 25c per lb.

During three past years this trust has taken Hundreds of Millions of Dollars from the pockets of American Citizens.

It has given Brazil 85 Millions of Dollars with which to retire her National Bonds.

It has given Brazil 10 Millions of Dollars to pay interest on her bonds.

It has given Brazil a "bought and paid for" supply of coffee on hand worth 90 Millions of Dollars and—

It has paid millions upon millions of profit into the coffers of the Foreign Money Kings, and yet the coffee people report a falling off in sales of about 200 million pounds in the past two years.

Why this Heavy Reduction?

Until recently the ever-increasing army of Postum users, thought only of health as a "reason" for quitting coffee. Now Economy is another "reason." A third "reason," Improved Flavor, has come in with prepared instantly by placing a spoonful in a cup and pouring hot water over it.

This presents a delicious beverage much resembling high grade Java in color and taste, but absolutely pure and free from the coffee drug "caffeine" or any other harmful ingredient.

Health, convenience, flavor and economy have induced people to change from Coffee to Postum, then follows better health, freedom from headache, indigestion, nervousness and other coffee ills.

The Result—

In hundreds of thousands of American homes today, coffee is forgotten and Postum has become the regular table beverage. It is an American drink made by Americans from American products.

A 100-cup tin Instant Postum, 50c, (equals 1-2c per cup), at Grocers. (Smaller tins at 30c.) Regular Postum, large size package, (must be boiled 15 minutes), 25c.

"There's a Reason"

Coffee averages about double that cost.

5-cup free sample of Instant Postum sent for 2-cent stamp for postage.

INDUSTRIAL ZONE TO BE ESTABLISHED
Laundries, Stables and Factories to Be Kept From Residential Districts.

Creation of an industrial zone, to which all factories, laundries, stables, glue factories, breweries, undertaking establishments and other businesses objectionable to the residential section will be relegated will be effected by the city council in an ordinance now being prepared by City Attorney Ben F. Woolner. The delimitation of the "industrial zone" will be made by the council as soon as Woolner presents the skeleton form of the proposed ordinance.

Woolner notified the council this morning that the State Supreme Court has recently sustained such an ordinance as being constitutional in California. The opinion was handed down in a Los Angeles case August 14, and establishes the right of a city to enforce such a law. The opinion was written by Justice Harry McLean.

The city council has long had under consideration the passing of a law limiting laundries, stables and other objectionable businesses to a particular business zone in the city. The city attorney, working on former decisions, has been forced to advise against the passage of such an ordinance on the ground that it would probably be thrown out as unconstitutional. A petition was filed in council this morning that if a request was made for permission to rebuild stables recently burned in the southern section of Oakland, the council should refuse the permission. The petition of the residents was placed on file and Woolner, after explaining the situation, produced by the recent court decision, declared that he would prepare an Oakland ordinance of this scope if ordered to do so.

LOSES HIS AUTO AS WELL AS WIFE
Unidentified Affinity Accused of Stealing Irvington Man's Spouse.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 27.—W. Peagas, a prosperous business man of Irvington, Alameda county, is minus his fine touring car and also his wife, who, he says, ran away with the car to Sacramento, then sold it to a Santa Clara man for $300 and eloped with an unidentified aff. Peagas has found out who purchased the car, but, as far as he has been able to unravel the mystery, he has not. He says, "A preliminary step in my investigation has been to get into the house of the man who sold the car to me. I have secured his first clew at the state prison."

According to the story told by Peagas, his wife suddenly left home several weeks ago, and his big automobile disappeared at the same time. She drove the car, but he was not with her, according to Peagas' information, was a strange young fellow whom Peagas is anxious to identify.

Peagas learned that Mrs. Peagas drove from her home in Irvington, Alameda county, to Sacramento. After a few days of idleness for two or three days, she appears, she finally decided to sell the car and continue her flight from home by train.

MANY WOULD WED GIRL IN A CAGE
Miss May Clark Besieged by Suitors for Hand and Heart.

Fifty proposals of marriage within the course of 12 hours, is probably a record for Oakland. Miss May Clark of 2004 San Pablo avenue, who recently advertised herself as being willing to wed any man in a den of wild animals at Idora park next Friday night, has been literally swamped with proposals. For two days Miss Clark, who is a stranger in Oakland and in a dire financial condition, received but one reply, and that was in a spirit of levity.

Her picture was published in Sunday's TRIBUNE, and then the proposals began to pour in. At 7 o'clock yesterday morning, before Miss Clark was out of bed, suitors for her hand were ringing at her door. She was called and called and as many phone proposals had been received.

Before noon, pretty Miss Clark was on the verge of a nervous breakdown and was compelled to retire to her room. Still she persisted. Three of them had skinned the car, and she was to be married the day, and were bound to have an audience with the young lady. She informed them all to be at Idora park at 7 o'clock last night.

One suitor was so persistent that he went out and borrowed a messenger to deliver a message to her. She told the house and announced that he had a telegram that must be delivered in person to Miss Clark, and she told him to be at Idora last night.

Twenty of the 50 showed that they were in earnest. But in an appearance at Idora park. One by one they were ushered into the presence of the beautiful Miss Clark and announced their respective good points, social position and abilities to provide for a wife. One of the entries, an elderly farmer from Walnut Creek, was so eager to win Miss Clark, that he offered the management of Idora park an extra $50 for the prize, on the condition that he would be accepted as the husband.

STILL UNDECIDED.
At the end of the interesting session, Miss Clark was still undecided as to which of the 50 she would have to pick. She announced that she would have to wait for a day at least and think over the various proposals she had received. It is hard enough to choose between two men, but when there are 50 entered in the field, it takes the average woman a long time to make up her mind.

There seemed to be a great many people in Oakland who would rather see Miss Clark remain single than pick a husband. A number of business men and three women temporarily relieved the young lady of her financial embarrassment and to find her employment. Two physicians called and stated they would give her work in their offices. Letters and phone calls galore were received telling the young lady, she was making the mistake of her life if she entered the competition to wed a practically unknown man in a cage of animals.

All of these communications have tended to make Miss Clark all the more undecided as to what she will do. The management of Idora has allowed her two additional days in which to pick a husband. If she is unable to choose by Thursday night, George W. Lowman, who is in charge of the park, will choose for her the best couple he can find in the names of the people to be married in the cage of wild animals on next Friday night.

MEASURE VICIOUS, SAYS ESHELMAN
The Arguments Are Advanced Against Several Proposed State Laws.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 27.—John M. Eshelman, member of the state railroad commission and former member of the assembly, who fought for the passage of the anti-racetrack gambling measure, today filed with the Secretary of State his argument against the proposed initiative measure seeking to establish a state racing commission and legalizing race-track betting by allowing Paris mutuels.

This measure, argues Eshelman, is backed by those who consider horses of more importance than men. The measure is vicious and will revive race-track gambling in its worst form, he adds. W. E. Gibson, named to write the argument against the initiative measure for the consolidation of cities and counties, says that by the consolidation of all the cities around the bay of San Francisco with San Francisco, and the consolidation of those cities in Los Angeles county with Los Angeles, San Francisco and Los Angeles could control the state's politics and the state's legislature.

A. L. Frick, named to write the argument for the referendum petition designed to have the people repeal the so-called county registrar of voters laws enacted by the legislature, sent in his argument. He declares the measure was enacted for the sole purpose of depriving County Clerk John P. Cook of Alameda county of certain patronage.

DEFENDANT IN SUIT SURPRISED
Asked for Accounting in Court; Is Awarded Judgment for $1250.

H. Guitard, a coffee merchant, who had been made the defendant in a suit for an accounting in the affairs of his company by four of his salesman-stockholders, was somewhat surprised at the sudden termination of the suit before Superior Judge Wicks, late yesterday, when the court awarded him judgment for $1250 against W. E. P. Freeman, Bert Van Winkle, F. D. Holmes and E. J. Gleason. Of that amount $500 was assessed among them, while Freeman and Holmes pay $150 each, Van Winkle $250 and Gleason $250.

The four men had operated routes in East Oakland and complained that Guitard had reorganized the San Francisco Coffee company into the Dome Coffee company for the purpose of ousting some of the salesmen and putting in outside stockholders who were not salesmen. They failed to press their suit yesterday, and judgment was given defendant. Guitard told the court that he had endeavored to save the company from insolvency, and charged in a cross-complaint that the four salesmen were diverting trade over their respective routes.

FOSS AND SMITH HOLD MEETING
Supervisor Is Enthusiastically Greeted at Gathering in East Oakland.

Supervisor Fred W. Foss continued his active campaign for re-election this afternoon with another big neighborhood meeting, this time at the residence of Mrs. C. M. Berry, 339 Lester street, East Oakland.

Foss expressed his gratification at the interest the residents of his district were displaying in his campaign and the support that was being accorded him by people in every business and representing almost every interest.

"I take it," said Foss, "that it is poor policy to remove a man from public office unless he has proved unfaithful to his trust. Otherwise you keep good men from seeking office. I believe that I can say without fear of contradiction that the present board of supervisors has proved themselves more conscientious and businesslike than any other county has had in years. By returning us to office you place a premium on honest service."

Foss was warmly applauded.

Frank M. Smith, assemblyman from the new Thirty-sixth district, also was accorded a hearty reception and received pledges of support in his campaign for re-election.

TWENTY YEARS.
Makes a great difference in most women. They are troubled with "nerves"—they suffer from backache, headache, sleeplessness, a sensation of irritability or twitching, hot flashes, dizzy spells, or many other symptoms of female weakness. The local disorder and inflammation should be treated with Dr. Pierce's Lotion. Tablets and the irregularity and weakness of the female system corrected and strengthened with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The strain upon the young woman or the woman of middle age—upon the nerve and blood forming structures—may be too great for her strength. This is the time to take this restorative tonic and strength-giving nerve and regulator. For over forty years sold by druggists for women's peculiar weaknesses and distressing ailments. The one remedy so perfect in composition and so good in curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. The one remedy which absolutely contains neither alcohol nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

Following letter selected at random from a large number of similar ones and cited merely to illustrate these remarks:

"In the winter of 1908, I became greatly run down and irregular," writes Mrs. Harvey Scott, of Swan Creek, Mich., Route 1, Box 48. "I plied but surely grew worse, and at last, resolved to apply to the doctor for help. The doctor said I had inflammation, enlargement and laceration. I was in bed eleven weeks and got no better. The doctor said I would have to have an operation, but to that I would not listen. My husband purchased two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I started to take this remedy I could not walk across the floor, but after I had taken three bottles I could feel myself gaining, so I dropped the doctor and took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Only for it I think I would have been dead—I really believe it saved my life. I feel better now than in twenty years."

SERBIA ADDRESSES NOTE TO TURKEY
Ottoman Government Asked to Investigate Reported Massacres.

SERBIA, Aug. 27.—The panic among the Christians in the vicinity of the Montenegrin frontier was brought officially to the attention of the Ottoman government today by the Serbian legation.

A Serbian diplomat informed the Turkish ministers that owing to the possession of arms by the Mohammedan Armenians, many of the Christian population of Minlik and Bielschik in the vicinity of Novik were seeking refuge in Serbia.

At the same time the Serbian government admitted that it had no confirmation of the reports of massacres.

The Porte replied with assurances that order would be maintained by Turkey in the district. A denial was given to the reports that arms had been distributed to the Alban Mohammedans who, it was declared, had pillaged the arms depots.

DARROW TO FACE A SECOND TRIAL
Noted Labor Attorney Accused of Bribing First Sworn McNamara Juror.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—Clarence S. Darrow, former chief counsel for the McNamara brothers, must go to trial October 21 for a second time on an indictment charging jury bribery. Presiding Judge Willis, of the Superior Court, set the October date today, when Darrow was called into court of the indictment charging him with having bribed Robert Bain, the first juror sworn to try James B. McNamara, the confessed dynamiter.

Bain indictment was returned against Darrow at the time the grand jury indicted the noted labor attorney for the bribery of George N. Lockwood, a charge of which Darrow was acquitted by a jury in quick time ten days ago.

Judge Willis announced after fixing the trial date, that within two days he would call upon Acting Governor Wallace to appoint an outside judge to preside at the second trial of Darrow.

Seen and Heard
About the Store

The enthusiasm over the coming Fashion Show waxes greater every day.

Monday there was a perfect wave of excitement caused by the return of several more buyers from New York, upon the showing in whose departments depends to a considerable extent, the success of our Fashion Show. All are greatly satisfied with their selections this year and are exulting in happy anticipation of the pleasure to be given when many new style secrets are revealed to the public September 5, 6 and 7.

The editress of this column took a peep into the receiving room this morning and what a scene it presented! All the counters and most of the floor space were piled with boxes and boxes. She never saw so many shapes and kinds. Every spot where there was standing room busy hands were marking goods which could not be gotten into the stock-room fast enough to make way for more boxes dumped from the freight elevator. Spacious as is this receiving room, it is being taxed to the utmost these busy days prior to the Fall Opening.

Sunday we announced in our advertisement that the chief of the Millinery Department had returned from eastern markets and brought with her many new and charming hats. Scores of women came to see them Monday and were delighted with their beauty and surprised at the variety of styles so early in the season. The writer stood by and heard the buyer tell her visitors that in no previous season had her hats been so satisfying. "The new autumn shapes are all so delightfully different," she said. "They have the most seductive curves and most marvelous lines."

"Small, yet not tiny," "Large, yet not unwieldy." Here she was interrupted by a shriek of delight from a little woman who had discovered the newest thing in "Auto Bonnets," and sat it on her head. Everybody turned to admire it. It was extremely becoming with its Quaker shaped plaited front and its long pointed hood and tassels falling gracefully over the back. Eminently serviceable, too, was the width of silk sewn across the back to come down well over the hair and then split to bring around under the chin and tie.

"It's just what I've been looking for," she said, "ever since we bought our machine. It's a perfect darling. What a delight to get just what you want." Getting just what you want is a most ordinary thing in this cleverly managed department, which is most unlike the usual department store millinery sections. The beautiful setting and the individuality of style in head gear, secured through the many lines confined to us, make it as distinctive and charming as any exclusive shop at home or abroad.

"I never fail to find a crowd at Capwell's," a woman was overheard telling a friend the other day. And it's true. Even on foggy or rainy days when other places are empty, Capwell's is full of people. Always there is a coming and going of those who like to do their shopping under conditions of comfort and satisfaction. Dark days which make other places depressed and deserted, only make Capwell's more popular. But after all, what is it but human nature? At Capwell's there is so much thought taken of the needs of the public. There is so much light and cheeriness. The store is like a private house, in the sense that every one who comes into it is treated like an honored guest, and everything that can be thought of is done to make them happy and comfortable.

If when your shopping is done, you do not at once want to go out on the street, there is a rest room where you may read or write letters, a tea room where you may get refreshments or a children's play room on the Roof Garden where you may watch the little folks frolic.

That Capwell's is a cosmopolitan place was amply demonstrated the other day when on the promenade of the Roof Garden I overheard five different languages being spoken at once. Two were foreign tourists who were seeing Oakland and taking in the glorious panoramic view of bay and hills from the flower fenced promenade.

Going through a department a day or two ago I passed a lady and gentleman just leaving one of the counters. As I went by the man exclaimed: "That WAS satisfactorily done!"

His face and manner expressed a great content and satisfaction. It was evident that the way the transaction had been carried out had given him the greatest pleasure — had made of him a friend.

I wanted so badly to know the proportion of other shopping folk who come away from their purchasing with the same complete gratification.

The advertising writer is always boasting of our STORE SERVICE because it is the desire of the store to have it perfect — sometimes despite our vigilance it fails in certain cases — and these we like to have told us — that they may not occur again.

STARTS ON WALK
ACROSS CONTINENT

H. P. Lovelace Carries Rifle and Box of Socks on Long Hike.

Marking the commencement of a cross the continent walking tour on which he hopes to make a record, H. P. Lovelace, who has crossed from ocean to ocean before riding a bicycle and driving a team, started from the Oakland city hall this morning after obtaining the signature of Frank K. Mott in his "Book of Mayors." Lovelace will take the northern route, which has not been attempted before on a walking trip since old pioneer days and hopes to make Portland in twenty-one days.

Lovelace is equipped with a rifle, an extra suit of underwear and extra pair of shoes and a box of socks. He does not carry blankets or other paraphernalia, but travels light. He sleeps at small hotels and inns, and walks through the night until he finds a suitable stopping place. Lovelace's destination is his birthplace, Bangor, Me., on the Atlantic coast.

Lovelace has done considerable walking, having established records in England, South Africa, the United States and Mexico. One of his most notable achievements was a journey from Maine to Patagonia in South America, making the entire trip on foot. He is writing a book concerning travels, and will pay his way by keeping a running diary of his journey across the continent.

CRIMINAL RECORD OF SLEUTH FOUND

Information Concerning Detective William Rose Received Here.

Advice from Kansas City, Kan., and Oklahoma City, Okla., brought information of the previous criminal record of Detective William Rose of San Diego, whose arrest was caused at the instance of the Oakland department, were received by Acting Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen this morning. Rose, who was a companion of J. C. Warren, another private detective, in tracing a San Diego diamond theft, attempted to swindle Louis Bernstein of the Oakland Pioneer Loan Office, and it was partially to save Bernstein from being mulcted by the detective that Rose was arrested in San Diego.

After being brought to San Francisco early this month on the charge sworn to by Maud Adams, a consort of an ex-convict, Rose, Rose restored some of the stolen property to the Adams woman and to Bernstein. He was then taken back to San Diego, but declared that his record was clear. Through finger prints and Bertillon measurements Rose has been identified as Roy A. Houghton, alias Roy Cunningham, alias Bert A. Spaulding, a diamond thief and petty larcenist with charges standing against him in Kansas city and Oklahoma city. Rose was arrested in Kansas city October 1, 1901, for burglary and petty larceny, but after being held to answer, jumped his bail. He was arrested in Oklahoma city May 30, 1909, for diamond robbery and burglary, but escaped as a fugitive from justice.

WEST OAKLAND GIVES ENTHUSIASTIC
RECEPTION TO SUPERVISOR MULLINS

SUPERVISOR J. F. MULLINS, WHO IS MAKING A WINNING FIGHT FOR RE-ELECTION TO THE OFFICE HE NOW HOLDS.

Audience Fills Hall and Cheers for Candidate

"That is another campaign lie nailed," said Supervisor John F. Mullins, as he looked over a happy crowd of young men and young women, who filled Fraternity Hall at Seventh and Peralta streets last evening. "What's that?" asked a friend. "Why, they said that West Oakland wasn't for me, and look at that gathering."

And there was no question whatever but that the gathering was for "Johnnie Mullins," and there was no question whatever but that it was large and thoroughly enthusiastic. If it had not been enthusiastic it would not have kept the hall filled and waited from early in the evening until after 10 o'clock for their neighbor, friend and candidate. The meeting was arranged as a testimonial for Mr. Mullins by Y. M. I. No. 3, of which he is president, but it was not confined to any one candidate, for both J. F. Mullins and John W. Steaton spoke. The hall was filled with young people from the whole West Oakland district, who wanted to show John F. Mullins that they were for him, first, last and all the time. They were mostly young people, too, young men and women who have just entered upon the threshold of citizenship, with a sprinkling of the older heads.

CHILDREN GREET NAME

The meeting opened with Joseph Kinney in charge. He told them that they had come to do honor to John F. Mullins and to endorse his candidacy for Supervisor, and the cheers that met that statement, even though Mullins himself was not to arrive for two hours, were enough to prove his standing. There was an impromptu program that filled the hours, which was taken part in by Miss Marie Dowd, vocal solo; Misses Jeanette Hudson and Mary Kenny, duet, accompanied by Miss Lily Tracy, song by Ralph Johnson, duet by Walter and Dave Johnson; monologue by Daniel Crowley Jr.; recitation by E. J. Cullen, and an address by William McCarthy. When the meeting began to arrive and the young people assembled listened to Knowland and Steaton and William J. Hennessy had a few words to say in advance. He said that the tendency of the times was to traduce rather than to praise public officials and he regretted that people of the present were too prone to criticize public officials who were trying to do their duty and who were honest and hard working. He said that John F. Mullins was a high compliment as a man who had done his duty and redeemed his pledges and who had given his whole time to the conduct of an office that was most difficult to fill.

SPEAKS OF CAMPAIGN

Then John F. Mullins had his chance to respond to the welcome that had been extended to him and he did it in a few well chosen words that showed how much he appreciated the gathering. He said he had no politics, but he did speak of the campaign that was being conducted against him. "Friends," he began, "for I am not going to call you 'ladies and gentlemen,' the greatest pleasure about this thing to me is that it has nailed another lie that is being circulated about me. They have been saying that West Oakland, where I have lived all my life, was against me. This outpouring has settled that campaign lie. I would rather have a good vote in this section than in any other part of my district. For it is you who know me, you who have been raised with me, you who first elected me to the city council of Oakland, the youngest man who ever sat in that body. It was you who elected me to the Board of Supervisors, the youngest man who ever sat in that organization. I want, and now I know I will get, a good vote from you, and I will have a statement to the world that you have confidence in me, that you believe that I kept my promises when I was in the city council, that you believe that I have kept my promises since I have been in the Board of Supervisors. "There have been some foul things said in this campaign, but they have not been said by me. They have been said by disreputable politicians who have been kicked out of office because they were unfit, and I am proud tonight that I have been kicked out to show your confidence and faith in me. HONESTY NOT QUESTIONED. "I have always tried to do my duty and I have always tried to be honest and efficient. I know that I have always been honest and no man dares say otherwise. I have always done my duty as I saw it and I have given my whole time to my office. What more can any man ask? If I have failed to accomplish anything it has not been because I did not try, but it has been because it was impossible. My friends, I thank you."

SUPPORT IS GIVEN

Supervisor Mullins swung around a circle last evening and spoke at four meetings in as many different parts of his district. In every case he had the warm support of the audience and when he left there was no question whatever but that the voters of that district were willing and anxious to support him in his campaign for re-election.

DOCTOR TO DISCUSS
HEALTH OF CHILDREN

The work of caring for the health and fitness of children in the Oakland public schools will be the subject of an address before the Teachers and members of the Merchants' Exchange tonight by Dr. N. K. Foster, special medical officer to the board of education. The address will be held at the Merchants' Exchange building. Dr. Foster will discuss the importance of the medical inspection of children and the need for better health conditions in the schools. He will also discuss the importance of the physical education of children and the need for better facilities for sports and recreation. The address will be held at 7:30 o'clock and is free of charge. BAR ASSOCIATION
WARS OVER NEGRO

Southern Members Demand That Colored Harvard Man Be Ousted.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 27.—When the 36th annual convention of the American Bar Association opened here today at Hotel Pilsater, members said that before the end of the three-day session the association might be split wide open by the fight for and against the ousting of Assistant Attorney-General William H. Lewis, a negro, for membership. Lewis is known at Harvard, where he was graduated in 1894, as the greatest center rush in all football history.

Lewis has a champion in no less a personage than his chief, Attorney-General Wickersham, who has threatened to resign from the association if Lewis is dropped. Colonel Alexander Troy, of Montgomery, Ala., has replied thus: "You keep your negro and lose a thousand members throughout the south."

The executive committee admitted Lewis to membership without knowledge of his color. The president's address, by S. S. Gregory of Illinois, opened the meeting this morning. Frank B. Kellogg's address on "New Nationalism" comes tomorrow morning. Tomorrow night the association will hear a paper on "The Courts and the Constitution," by Senator George Sutherland of Utah. The progressive tide will be given by the association at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night at the Plangin House.

GREGORY'S ADDRESS.

President Gregory said: "We seem to have reached a time when the very constitution and frame of our government is under critical examination. The necessity for those safeguards in administration which have been deemed essential to the security of rights to life, liberty and to property, is called in question. The progressive tide, stayed by constitutional barriers, threatens now to sweep them all away."

Gregory reviewed the work of the recent session of Congress and said that perhaps the most significant act was the adoption of a joint resolution proposing to the states an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of members of the Senate by direct vote. He referred to the Lorimer case as strengthening the popular sentiment for the direct vote.

PROTECTING THE BENCH.

"We ought not, however, to condone nor gloss over the shortcomings of the bench. There is altogether too much of an effort on the part of some lawyers to do this."

Referring to the action of certain states in extending the suffrage to women, Gregory said:

"It certainly seems as if women were entitled to self-government as well as men. It is the Jeffersonian idea, and I believe it to be the true one, that all men are entitled, not merely to wise government, but merely to honest government, not only to good government, but to self-government."

"It is difficult to see how, consistently with this principle, which lies at the foundation of American institutions, the political rights of colored men can be denied."

BONNER TRIAL MAY
CONCLUDE TONIGHT

Witnesses Called by Prosecution Believe in Slayer's Sanity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The trial of Charles Bonner, the 19-year-old slayer of Bernice Lillian Goddard, his girl sweetheart, will in all probability be brought to a close tonight. If the prosecution is successful in finishing the examination of a half dozen witnesses called in rebuttal, the arguments will begin tomorrow morning and the case will reach the jury by Thursday noon.

From day to day there has been added interest in the trial and this morning the court room was crowded it being necessary to put extra chairs behind the counsel tables. The defendant has become more agitated as the evidence of his witnesses is being contravened by the persons called in the interests of the prosecution.

Dr. Charles A. Dozier, who was unable to appear yesterday, was the final witness for the defense summoned this morning. He was for a year a resident physician of the Napa asylum and declared that he examined Bonner and found him an incurable paranoiac. He asserted that the defendant has become more agitated as the evidence of his witnesses is being contravened by the persons called in the interests of the prosecution. When the defense had closed, Assistant District Attorney McNutt called Helms Davis, a mill hand who had worked with the defendant for some time. He told of his belief in the lad's sanity and of having "loshed" him about taking a girl to the skating rink.

BATTERED WOMAN
ACCUSES NEIGHBOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Olympia Torres, 8 Berthol street, and Thilla Coloco, 8 Portola street, housewives, quarreled last night over the merits of a neighborhood dispute. Their row first took on the nature of a wordy combat but as it became more heated they resorted to blows. Finally Mrs. Torres, with some blunt instrument is alleged to have struck Mrs. Coloco on the head and face, inflicting several lacerated wounds. The latter was taken to the Harbor hospital and Mrs. Torres was arrested by patrolmen Curtis and Moran and charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

DOCTOR TO DISCUSS
HEALTH OF CHILDREN

The work of caring for the health and fitness of children in the Oakland public schools will be the subject of an address before the Teachers and members of the Merchants' Exchange tonight by Dr. N. K. Foster, special medical officer to the board of education. The address will be held at the Merchants' Exchange building. Dr. Foster will discuss the importance of the medical inspection of children and the need for better health conditions in the schools. He will also discuss the importance of the physical education of children and the need for better facilities for sports and recreation. The address will be held at 7:30 o'clock and is free of charge. Seats will be reserved for the members of the board of education and the Teachers' Association.

CHECK OPERATOR
WORKS STORES

Makes Purchases of Goods
Netting $5 in Each Shop.

Operating on a small scale, a clever check passer has been engaged for the past week in victimizing several small stores. The method used by the criminal was that of making a purchase of a small bill of goods, giving a fictitious address in the neighborhood for the delivery of the order, and paying with a small check. The transaction netted the check passer less than $5 in each instance.

The check passer is a smooth-tongued man of middle age, fairly well dressed. He purchased a pair of shoes from the J. M. Samuels store, 1555 Seventh street, obtaining less than $4 in change, after paying for the shoes with a worthless check. Saturday afternoon he passed a check on M. J. Farro of the Farro & W. M. Hart saloon, 1545 Seventh street, obtaining $3.75 in cash.

Mrs. W. Gardner, Tenth and Union streets, was offered a check by the same man for $14 in payment for a small bill of goods to be delivered to a fictitious address. Mrs. Gardner did not have the required change in the cash drawer, and the man left, after telling her that the goods would be paid for on delivery. The address proved to be a vacant lot.

The Reward Due Supervisor Foss.

The voters of the district represented by Supervisor Fred W. Foss in the county board are under a moral obligation to him and to the city of Berkeley of which he is a resident to re-elect him to a second term at the coming primaries. They owe him a re-election because he has served the district faithfully and well. They owe it to Berkeley because that city is the most populous part of the Supervisorial District and Foss is the only Berkeleyan that ever occupied a seat in the governing body of Alameda county. If he had failed to render good service to the district and the county, or violated his pledge to give them a strictly business administration for which his training and life experience as a successful business man eminently qualified him, it might have been different. But Foss has kept strict faith to his pledges as a Supervisor. No one can honestly find fault with him on that score. He has filled the bill to the letter.

It is true that Supervisor Foss has not distinguished himself in the board as an orator. He lays no claim to the gift of brilliant speech. He is, as a matter of fact, a man of comparatively few words. But what he says on any subject in the discussions pertaining to the affairs of the county is always marked by sound common sense and pertinency from the viewpoint of a business man whose sole idea is to secure to the county and to his district the best results to the taxpayer. That is a qualification of great value in any public representative.

Most public representatives keep their eyes fixed constantly on the political weather vane. They never lose sight of its variations. Their minds incessantly dwell on the political effect of every act performed. They shift with every apparent change of the wind, metaphorically speaking. Supervisor Foss is not that kind of a man. His position on any question is not influenced by such considerations. With him the question of what is right and just for the interests of the constituency he represents and for Alameda county is paramount to all other phases of the case. He is in no sense a trimmer which his record during his term amply proved. The county at large has been the gainer by it. He has helped in a very pronounced manner to give the county four years of clean, honest administration and has thus been an important factor in preventing extravagance and the scandal which is always associated with it.

An official of the type of Mr. Foss never loses the confidence, therefore, of the friends of good government. By them his worth is appreciated. He is a man, after their own heart. They will support him to a man, as they should.

It is only with the gang of professional tax-eaters that public representatives like Supervisor Foss are unpopular. What they want is a man with a flexible backbone whose actions they can control for their own selfish and nefarious purposes—one who will leave a convenient opening in the doorway of the county treasury through which they can slip and prey on its contents. Vanderbilt's motto—"The Public Be Damned"—is the only slogan influencing their minds and conduct. They have no use for a public representative whose conduct is governed by different rules and views. Fortunately, that class is limited in numbers and its influence, and power has waned materially in the atmosphere of the County Board of Supervisors during the past four years. The great body of the citizens of Alameda county have taken notice of that fact. They will carry it with them to the polls on primary election day, without doubt, and give evidence of their confidence in a public servant of proved integrity and efficiency by re-electing Supervisor Foss with a rousing majority which is in their power to give him. It will be a tribute to his faithfulness in the public service which he certainly deserves.

Every alleged argument brought against granting the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railroad permission to bridge the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers at Chippis Island applies with a hundred times the force to the bridges across Oakland harbor. The real reason for the objection was not stated, however. The bridge at Chippis Island will shorten the running time between Sacramento and Oakland by nearly an hour, and will provide an entrance to this city for another transcontinental railway if J. J. Hill or any other railway magnate should desire a water terminal on San Francisco bay. The Chippis Island bridge will open a shorter rail route to Sacramento than any in use at present and will obviate the ferryage at Benicia that is necessary at present, if the long detour by way of Stockton is to be avoided.

No Good Citizen Should Neglect to Vote.

The most important issue to Alameda county to be settled at the polls in the primaries of next month is that which will determine what shall be the character of the county government during the next four years. The county government is, of course, centered in the Board of Supervisors. The majority of the members of the board determine the character of the government. A majority of that body, as now organized, has given the county a clean, honest, economical and progressive government. Prior to the election of the present majority, the Board of Supervisors was so organized that the majority of its members were dominated by the County Clerk. They obeyed his every beck and call. That was a period when waste and extravagance reigned in the county government. The people's money was squandered lavishly, with little, if any, regard as to whether or not the county received fair and honest results in return.

During the past four years the county treasury has been vigilantly protected against the predatory operations of the County Clerk and his hungry gang of adherents. The county has received a dollar's worth of results for every dollar of its money that has been spent. Its government has been conducted strictly on business principles.

It is now up to the voters of Alameda county to say through the medium of their ballots cast at the September primaries whether good and honest administration of county affairs shall be endorsed and continued again through the next four years, or whether the old gang shall be reinstated in power and the old-time era of extravagance and waste shall be restored.

A majority of the Supervisors who have conscientiously labored during the past four years to give the county a clean and honest government are candidates for re-election. Whether they shall receive that reward in return for faithful and efficient service rests with the voters. If every friend of good government turns out on primary election day and votes, they will unquestionably be re-elected as they are justly entitled to be. One thing is certain, however, the activities of the gangsters will be strongly in evidence. Every voter Cook and his followers can influence will surely be mustered at the polls to cast his ballot to defeat the re-election of the three Supervisors who have, during their term of office, given the county a pre-eminently honest business administration. The friends of good government must be equally active to counteract the gang's efforts and defeat its purpose. It is imperative that every good citizen should rally to the support of these candidates at the primaries. It is the only practical way to show an appreciation of the splendid work they have done for the county and the clean records they have made. It will be a grave abuse of the great privilege of exercising the right of suffrage for any good citizen to neglect to vote at the coming primaries and give the foes of honest government an opportunity to triumph. Let every citizen who believes in honest government appear at the polls next month and do his or her duty by voting for men who have proved through their works their honesty and efficiency.

Test of Good Citizenship.

It is up to the voters of Alameda county to show their metal at the coming primary election. They are more numerous this year than they have ever been before. The electorate has been nearly doubled by the admission of women to the rights of suffrage. Good results—better, in fact, than have ever before been obtained—should follow. The women voters may be relied upon as being vastly in the majority in favor of clean and honest government. They are, moreover, possessed of that enthusiasm which is invariably in evidence in the recruit. It is, therefore, natural to expect that they will turn out strong to exercise the new right of voting which they have acquired, with the brilliant prospect that their votes will be cast for men, good and true, who will fittingly represent the best elements in society throughout the county.

It ought to be a good year for good government for county and State. Much depends, however, on the action of voters at the primaries. Nominating conventions are no longer a factor in the nomination or election of candidates. The people at large are in control. They alone are responsible for the results. The latter will depend upon the interest they will show in the primaries—in the way they avail themselves of the privilege of direct nomination and in the discrimination they show in their election of candidates. Voters have great responsibilities thrust on them this year. Every good citizen should, therefore, rally to the primaries and cast a ballot for the candidate in whom he or she has confidence. There should be no laggards. It is not an occasion for indifference or neglect. The foes of good government will be out in full strength. The old gang is sure to be active. There are no laggards in its membership. Every one in its ranks is drilled to a finish. Its votes will be cast solid for candidates that it can control. It is not a question of good government with the gangsters, but the spoils of office and the restoration of power. Their evil purposes can be defeated only by the determination of the friends of good government to be equally zealous in the performance of their duty, making any sacrifice, if necessary, to visit the polls and declare their preferences by casting their ballots for the candidates for office in whom they have implicit confidence. The vote at the primaries may not be as large as that cast at the final election; but it ought to be so large that the results will be decisive. A large vote at the primaries will be cast if all good citizens perform their duty, and, in that event, the right is sure to triumph through the election of the best candidates for all offices. Voting at the primaries is a test this year of good citizenship.

The people of Alameda county are competent to choose their representative in Congress without outside interference. They know their own business better than anybody can tell them. They have tried Joseph R. Knowland and have found him trusty and capable.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY

The journey which Rev. George V. Kennedy of the Christian church expects to take soon is one which travelers seldom attempt. He returned a year ago from a journey in Europe and parts of Asia and Africa, but this time he will go much further outside the usual routes of travel. He will go into Persia, make a trip down the Euphrates river, join a caravan and penetrate the interior of Arabia, and make a thorough tour of India. His former long journey only whetted his desire for travel of the pastor of the Christian church.

A New Bridge for Eighth Street.

Too much cannot be said in commendation of the City Council for appropriating $35,000 to build a new bridge on Eighth street to replace the broken down, temporary viaduct in use for the past five years. The new bridge is an improvement sorely needed to relieve the congestion of traffic on the Twelfth-street causeway and to provide a shorter route from the waterfront to East Oakland.

Because of the deplorable condition of the Eighth-street bridge, all the heavy teaming is done at present over the Twelfth-street causeway. Trucks loaded with lumber and other bulky merchandise are compelled to make a wide detour and pass over the Twelfth-street causeway in order to reach their destination in the eastern section of the city, with the result that traffic is much congested at the foot of the lake, and the peril of travel increased.

The new bridge authorized by the City Council will relieve this congestion and restore Eighth street to its old position as a highway for heavy traffic. It will be a relief also to the property owners on Eighth street who have suffered for years because of the unsafe condition of the old bridge, besides being a great convenience to the business men located on the waterfront between Fallon and Jefferson streets.

Because of the urgent demand for improvements in other sections of the city, the restoration of the Eighth-street bridge has long been neglected, but the neglect is to be repaired at last and in a way to cause public rejoicing. A permanent bridge of concrete will replace the old structure, a bridge that will embellish the southern section of the city and provide a highway for traffic of all kinds. It will be compensation in some sort for the long wait to have the old bridge replaced by a durable and ornamental structure of the best class.

JUDGE'S TROUBLE AIDS PRISONER

Accused Man Seizes Psychological Moment to Gain Sympathy.

Psychology of human sympathy was seized upon by Eddie Logan, arrested on a charge of using vulgar language and facing ten days hard labor on the city rock pile, when he saw the tears come into the eyes of Judge Aaron Turner, on being informed of an accident to the Judge's four-year-old son. Logan struck at the right moment and gained his freedom.

Logan had been arrested for using bad language and for conduct unbecoming a gentleman in the presence of ladies. When arraigned, this morning, he attempted to place the blame for his actions upon Patrolmen Holmberg and Luttrell, the arresting officers.

"You cannot help yourself that way," sternly remarked Judge Turner. "These officers are clean men, and you are charged with uttering filth. Your sentence will be the payment of a fine of $20 or ten days in the city prison."

The court proceedings were resumed, and Logan sat disconsolately in the cage. Presently Judge Turner was summoned to the telephone. When he returned to the bench his voice was unsteady and there were tears in his eyes.

"My boy has met with an accident. I will have to adjourn court," Turner explained.

Logan arose hurriedly. There was a gleam of hope in his eye.

"Your honor," he said. "I see I was in the wrong. I want to do right. Can't you let me go?"

The judge turned in Logan's direction, and made his final order of the day: Judgment suspended. You may go. Court is adjourned for today.

UDELL SEEKS TO ENJOIN JORDAN

Applies for Injunction Preventing Issuance of Nomination Certificates.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Alva Udell, who is circulating a petition for the recall of Governor Hiram Johnson, applied to the Superior Court today for an injunction restraining Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state, from issuing certificates of nomination to the voters of those districts in which there are hold-over senators are excluded from voting in the primary election on September 3 and so are without representation. No primary elections to nominate candidates for the state senate, Udell relates, have been held in Alameda, Alameda, Colusa, Colusa, Glenn, Lake, Lassen, Colusa, Madera, Mariposa, Merced, Modoc, San Joaquin, Shasta, Siskiyou, Sonoma, Stanislaus or Tuolumne counties. Therefore the qualified electors of those counties are not privileged to elect, to take part in the nomination of electors.

Initial Payment Deferred Until Value Can Be Thoroughly Investigated.

Payment of $6000 as the first installment in the purchase of a proposed park site at Thirty-second and Union streets was deferred until the city can make a thorough investigation of the property. The property is owned by C. F. Rheinboldt. The city council, at its meeting last night, decided to purchase the property for $25,000. The property is situated on the corner of Thirty-second and Union streets, and is a large, well-kept lot. The city council will make a thorough investigation of the property before making a final decision on whether to purchase it.

BAR HARBOR, Maine, Aug. 27.—Are society thieves, bent on securing the famous Hope diamond, responsible for a series of burglaries at the cottage colony here?

The police are convinced that this has been one of the objects of the burglars and that they move in the same social set as the persons they have been robbing.

The cottages looted were those of John R. McLean, the Cincinnati publisher, and Mrs. Morris K. Jessup, widow of the New York financier.

A few hours later the burglars tried to enter the home of Mrs. Edward B. McLean, mother of the "hundred-million-dollar baby," and were fired upon by watchmen guarding the Hope diamond and other jewels on the premises.

Retainers about the cottage colony are mute about the robberies, but it is said that some of the great value was stolen from both the John R. McLean and the Jessup cottages.

Edward B. McLean bought the famous stone in 1911 for his young bride, who was handsome Miss Evelyn Walsh, member of the exclusive set of Colorado and Washington.

May Yale, the actress and former wife of Lord Hope, whose escapades with Captain Putnam Bradley Strong led to a countrywide scandal, attributed all her misfortunes to the evil influence of the gem.

Misfortunes have followed the diamond since it was bought by Mrs. Edward B. McLean by the French traveler, Tavernier, in 1662. The "Grand Monarque" allowed Mme. Montespan to wear it, and her downfall followed shortly afterward. Poquet, who held away over the French finances, was ruined today. The ill-fated Marie Antoinette wore it, as did also her bosom friend, the Princess de Lamballe, who was torn limb from limb by the French revolutionists who guillotined the queen. Louis XV, who also wore the gem, followed his wife to execution.

The diamond next appeared in a dingy shop in Soho Square, London, where it was bought by a jeweler from a starving man, who said its previous owner had committed suicide.

Prince Ivan Kanitovski of Russia, who once owned the stone, was killed by anarchists, and numerous other tragedies befall its successive owners.

APPROPRIATIONS WERE TRIMMED

Democratic House and Senate Make Cuts, Including Salaries.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—President Taft's economy commission, it was decided today, will ruthlessly trim the Democratic House and by the Senate in the sundry civil appropriation and the legislative appropriation bills. In addition to limiting the powers of the commission to matters of transacting the public business of the government "only in the several executive departments," the sundry civil bill reduces the salaries of its members.

The chairman now gets $10,000 a year, while the five other members receive $8000 each.

The new law provides that not more than three persons may be paid more than $40,000 per annum and cuts to $75,000 the amount designated with which to prosecute the work.

In the legislative bill a paragraph, slipped in at the last moment, provides that regular annual estimates of appropriations and expenses of the government shall be prepared and submitted to Congress by those charged with the duty of such preparation and submission, only in the form as to the time are required by law and in no other form and at no other time.

The commission has been in favor of the English "budget" system which the leaders declare is incompatible with the manner in which the United States government was operated. Taft has endorsed the commission and the House quietly seized the opportunity of blocking the commission from further interference with its work in appropriations.

The innocent paragraph excited no comment at first, but now suspicion in the Senate. It was not until today that the real significance of the legislation cropped out.

BRYANT TELLS OF LABRADOR TRIPCentral Plateau of Region Is of Surpassing Beauty, Explorer Wires.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Herbert L. Bridgman of Brooklyn announced that he had received a telegram from Henry G. Bryant, president of the Philadelphia Geographical Society giving the first news of Bryant's exploring trip in Labrador.

Bryant left this city on June 22 and St. Augustine, Labrador, July 12, for a reconnaissance in a part of Labrador never before traveled by a white man. Bryant returned to St. Augustine Saturday and in a telegram received by Bridgman announced that the expedition was fairly successful, and the first to explore and map the St. Augustine river from the sea to its source, a distance of 141 miles. We traveled a region fairly timbered, but unutilized for agriculture. The scenery of the central plateau of Labrador is of surpassing beauty. The Indians deserted after four days, but we successfully covered two-thirds of the distance to Hamilton Inlet, when we were obliged to return.

"The topographical results are important and will essentially change the maps of the river. This, the geographical and entomological specimens and photographs, reconcile me to the disappointment that I was unable to completely cross the southeastern part of the Labrador peninsula."

Pleads With Mrs. Orozco
For Peace in Mexico

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—The recent meeting of the Baroness Bertha von Suttner of Vienna and Mrs. Rufugia Orozco, wife of the leader of the Mexican revolution, promises some hope of peace in Mexico.

They met in Los Angeles and went over the Mexican situation at length, through the aid of an interpreter. The baroness is the winner of a Nobel peace prize, and she has waged the most energetic battle of her sex for the abolition of war and the disarmament of nations. She has promised to use her influence with the women and with governments to bring about an honorable peace in Mexico.

Mrs. Orozco is anxious to see the war stopped, as she prefers to live at home quietly with her husband and five children rather than be wife of the president of Mexico, and promised to do all she could to end the revolution.

His Head.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 27.—Police Sergeant Everett S. Pennington, after lying two months in a hospital from the effects of a bullet passing entirely through his brain, appeared at the police station yesterday and announced that he would resume his duties September 1. His recovery is said by surgeons to be one of the most remarkable on record.

In a fit of hysteria last June his wife fired two shots into his head and then took her own life. One bullet struck at the bridge of the nose, destroyed the sight of one eye and passed on through to within an inch of the back of the head, where it was found later, after the skull had been trepanned and the brain probed.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 27.—"Government by cowards" has become notorious to the people," Aaron S. "We have just witnessed the appalling spectacle of three parties in convention assembled and so absolutely afraid of the members of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of London, who for twenty years has practiced on the Pacific Islands, where leprosy is common and the opportunity ample for studying the disease, that they claim it is not infectious, nor incurable. To back up his contention he has a number of interesting photographs showing patients before he began treating them and after undergoing the operation of several months. DENVER, Colo., Aug. 27.—Returning from a month's tour of California, I. Townsend Burden of New York and Newport, was greeted at the office of his father-in-law, Dennis Shedd, president of the Colorado National bank by a huge heap of assorted size mail mischievous preserved "Newport, Lord" Island New York and elsewhere.

Stripped they revealed a shower of newspaper clippings and scribbled reproaches. Burden quoted him as predicting the downfall of Newport and lauding Los Angeles as a social hub and the correspondent expressed themselves freely upon his reputation of the New York social club and the social colony on Narragansett bay was represented ably and strongly.

"Never saw a reporter while I was in California," he ejaculated. "I never made any such statements. A careful perusal of these statements leads me to believe they are advertisements to boom California real estate in the least. Nothing can alter my opinion that Newport has no superior as a summer resort."

'BURBANK' HUMANS
SAYS DR. JORDANEducator Recommends Science in Mating of Persons as Well as Plants.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 27.—Men and women should be "burbanked" in their choice of mates, Dr. David S. Jordan in his address before the Salt Lake Institute here yesterday.

"We are getting rid of traditions," he continued. "We are getting rid of the idea that one man can love only one, and only one woman always is getting rid of the idea that a woman is equally handicapped in her affections."

"If a man and wife are honest true and trustworthy, they will be beautiful and cling to each other, they must be Cupid's poster children to hold them together."

Dr. Jordan's address made a profound sensation and was received with great enthusiasm by the teachers. When he declared that men and women should be "burbanked" in their choice of mates, he was scientifically mated, just as Luther Burbank mates plants. He did not scold at love, but said that the scientific mating of human beings, regardless of sentimental traditions, would produce a far better race.

"I believe," said Dr. Jordan, "that the scientific mating of man and woman at the expense of sentimental traditions should produce superior children mentally and physically."

Luther Burbank, the accomplished wonderful improvements in plant life by scientifically selecting so to speak, husbands and wives for the various species in the vegetable kingdom, in which he is interested, more results have been accomplished among the lower animals.

SCIENCE IN MATING.

"The human race is no exception to nature's wonderful laws of reproduction, and those rules discovered by naturalists in the propagation of plants, birds and animals, even man, to be equally applicable to mankind."

The speaker took for example a settlement of idiots in Italy years ago. It said the idiots intermarried, with the result that a race of idiots was being produced. When scientists protested so vehemently that—20 years ago—their mating was prevented. This action he said, soon rendered the unfortunate idiots extinct. He continued:

"Icious timber wolf is taken from his haunts and placed in the city. He mated with a certain species of dog. The offspring is a gentle, affectionate, harmless Spanish lap dog. Human beings, like the wolf, are a wild race. Like produces like and will continue to produce like as long as the laws of propagation are not changed."

In substance the speaker said the vicious should not be permitted to marry the vicious. The wicked should be wicked, but that men and women should be mated in such a way as to produce offspring in which the evil is not.

He said that the good in the world is not the result of the good in the world, but the result of the bad in the world. He said that the good in the world is not the result of the good in the world, but the result of the bad in the world.

CLAIMS LEPROSY IS NOT INCURABLE

VANCOUVER, (B. C.), Aug. 27.—Is leprosy infectious? Is it incurable? For centuries this most terrible plague of humanity has been held to be both, and yet there is living quietly in Vancouver, until certain attention now pending is concluded, a Dr. Whitehead, member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of London, who for twenty years has practiced on the Pacific Islands, where leprosy is common and the opportunity ample for studying the disease, that he claims it is not infectious, nor incurable.

To back up his contention he has a number of interesting photographs showing patients before he began treating them and after undergoing the operation of several months. Through the scars were not obliterated, lesions were healed.

A. S. Jones, of the Lee Pharmacy, Chico, Cal., who has handled Foley & Co.'s medicine for many years, says: "I consider that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has no equal in the world. CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Women of West Hammond, a suburb who have been doing volunteer police duty, watching alleged disorderly resorts to make certain that their proprietors do not violate the law, have determined to demand that the chief of police resign his office so that one of their number may be appointed to the place, according to announcement made by Miss Virginia Brooks.

Since Thursday, when the city council voted to oust the disorderly resorts and resorts Miss Brooks has been acting chief of police in everything but name. Aided by women who report to her every hour by telephone, she is keeping a close watch for violations of the law by saloon keepers.

"We have accomplished more in three days than the regular police force has in four months," said Miss Brooks.

Don't Blame Your
Over Worked Stomach

When your stomach will not digest food, the worst thing you can do is to take a lot of digestive medicines. True, they give temporary relief, but your stomach is the sufferer. Loss of appetite, indigestion, dyspepsia and headaches can only be permanently relieved by removing the cause. In many cases, various remedies taken to relieve these conditions result in ruining the stomach and preventing it from digesting food in a natural way.

If you want your stomach to do its own work properly, without resorting to artificial digestives or predigested foods, use Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge. Take small doses regularly, preferably before meals. In a little time your stomach will again do its own work, and you will eat heartily, keep well and enjoy living. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is not a digester in itself, but it tones up the stomach and intestines, giving you all the nutriment and strength from the food you eat.

Many forms of supposed indigestion are the result of intestinal parasites, for which Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed. Insist on Jayne's, accept no other. Millions have praised it for more than eighty years. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS SULTAN SEEKS AN AMERICAN WIFE

Ruler Tours the United States, Hoping to Find Fifth Spouse.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—Touring the United States in search of an American woman to be his fifth wife and the head of his harem in German East Africa, where he is ruler of 7,000,000 natives and one of the heads of the Mohammedan church, Prince Sultan bin Nasir El Kemal, a member of the royal family of Dares-salam, arrived yesterday morning, accompanied by his bodyguard, valet and interpreter.

The Sultan of Dares-salam lost no time in taking up his search for a pretty girl of America to rule over his harem at home. Calling for a taxi, he drove down Broadway, and from the seclusion of the interior of his machine peered into the faces of the women passing by in the street. After his ride he said:

"I have four wives in my harem at home, but all of them are native women. I will marry some American girl and make her the head of my harem and household if she is pretty and intelligent."

"I prefer a blonde, but a brunette will do. My fifth wife must be of plump figure, have good teeth, small feet and plenty of hair. She will not have to do any work. Her life will be one of ease and luxury."

"If I do not find my wife here, I shall go to San Francisco. From there I will sail to the Orient to finish a world tour. If I find a girl for my fifth wife I will take her with me on this trip."

The governor general says the women of Paris are too bold and the English girls are entirely too thin and austere.

Rich Actress Held

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The Countess Helwig von Wrangel, who has an estate in the Black Forest, a town house in Berlin and a reputation as a first class actress, which she gained in New York, is held at Ellis Island involved in apparently endless red tape with the immigration authorities.

She has been there since Wednesday, all because she brought with her on her arrival from Europe, on the liner Presidential Lincoln, her 9-year-old niece, Margaretta Lange.

They came in the most expensive suite on the ship and have plenty of money, but the customs officials ruled that the Secretary of Commerce and Labor must pass on the case of any child entering the country unaccompanied by a parent or guardian.

The countess appeared for the first time yesterday among the steerage passengers, with whom she has been compelled to live while waiting for a reply to the papers sent to Washington.

Vain efforts have been made by a number of influential friends to obtain her release.

The countess is taking her place to visit an uncle at Okanogen, Wash.

Woman 107 Years Old

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 27.—Mrs. Louise Waterman Carpenter yesterday celebrated the 107th anniversary of her birth. Her friends believe that Mrs. Carpenter is the oldest woman in New England. Mrs. Carpenter was born in Old Warwick, R. I. She was one of twelve children, but only one of whom, Mrs. Isabella V. Colburn, 94, of Boston, Cal., still is living.

Gaby Becomes Bolder

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Gaby Deslys took the breath of the audience at the Palace Theatre last night by a daring performance. After a wild dance with her athletic American partner, Harry Plicker, in which she whirled in almost inconceivable attitudes, she disrobed more amazingly near the limit than was ever before seen in a London theatre. It is predicted that the English Anthony Comstock will interfere with the performance.

Gets Divorce Setback

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Supreme Court Justice Denckla denied motions made by Anna Held's attorneys yesterday to confirm the report of Referee Edward G. Whitaker and grant her an interlocutory decree of divorce from Florenz Ziegfeld. He found that the witnesses had not proved the charges required by the code of court procedure.

Miss Held will have to appeal to the court to permit the referee's report to be again submitted and confirmed. It was rumored yesterday that these witnesses would not appear again before the court. As there is no provision in the decision for a rehearing before the referee, Miss Held may have to begin action again.

Disrobes; Avoids Arrest

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—When Patrolman James Gilpin went to arrest Mrs. Eva Denett at her Hollywood home yesterday he saw a hasty transformation and an instant later Mrs. Denett was disrobed and in bed. Her father swore to a warrant charging disorderly conduct because, as he said, she refused to let him into the house the previous night.

She denied the situation and telephoned for two police women. When these officers arrived Mrs. Denett quietly submitted with the explanation that "no man could arrest her."

She was taken to the Boyle Heights station and made arrangements for her housing.

LASTING BEAUTY

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, by Lillian Russell.)

WHY will people persist in saying that beauty cannot last? True, it does fade if neglected—but whether it is quite as evanescent as the ancients considered it depends on the higher and better interior qualities of its possessor. We read that Psyche was assigned the difficult mission of descending to Hades to bring away a fragment of beauty in a box for the gods to sample. Lo! when the lid was lifted there issued vapor. Much of the beauty we find in high social circles today has no more foundation for durability than the legendary vapor. To those women who have intelligence and feelings and a knowledge of the demands of nature, beauty has a more permanent significance. So long as men are men—not mechanical automatons—and women have ordinary intelligence, women will study the art of pleasing.

Personal beauty should be the subject of every girl's deep consideration. This consideration, together with the real knowledge which is possible to acquire, and a certain modicum of mental force, should transform a plain girl into a veritable seraph. Fictitious beauties are to be avoided like any other counterfeit. The face which is plastered with powder and paint is the mask of any girl's real self. It is only the ignorant, common-minded girl who will hide her own personality under such a mask. The way to cultivate real beauty—beauty of the body and soul—beauty that is more enduring than a thin veneer of spurious tints and cosmetics, is simple living and high thinking. Its perfection rests on excellence of blood bearing and brains.

The modern craze for beauty is one of those thought waves which circle around the earth at irregular intervals. It is no less emphatic at the present day than it was in the days of Napoleon, Recamier and Louise. Beauty, like morality, is a thing of customs and geographic lines. The standard of Turkey would not meet favor in Paris or in America. Personal qualities of the most opposite character imaginable are regarded beautiful in different countries. This reflection brings us back to the old phrase that "beauty is in the eye of the gazer." Thus it is difficult to establish laws of beauty in women. Hume scientifically tells us: "There is nothing in itself, beautiful or deformed; desirable or hateful; but these attributes arise from the peculiar construction and fabric of human sentiment and affection." Yet, how is it that some women receive acknowledgement and admiration while others fail to stir wonder, rapture or love, and they pass into an eventless old age?

My theory is that the beauties unobserved are the ones who lack intelligence. The study of one branch of science brings with it a knowledge of many branches, desire and ambition sufficient to mark any woman with interest. Yet the woman who possesses extraordinary beauty and who has sufficient intellect to render her of an independent mind ought also to assume the quills of the porcupine in self-defense. Remember, it requires a strong mind to withstand the reputation for being a perfect beauty.

PLAN REDUCTION OF EXPOSITION TAX RATE

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 27.—The state board of equalization will meet next week for the purpose of fixing the rate for the Panama-Pacific Exposition tax, and it has been unofficially announced that the rate this year will be 4 cents and 4 mills on a $100 valuation. Last year's exposition tax—which is the only ad valorem tax levied by the state—was 5 cents on the $100 assessed valuation. The reduction this year is due to the increased assessment rolls.

British Columbia The Flying Legion

is up there now. The legion went up because of the importance of this great, big sister country of ours that is growing so fast.

Walter V. Moehle

went up there a couple of months ago at our request to tell our readers all about this wonderful Western Canada. The result is one of the most interesting articles we have ever run, "Unlocking British Columbia."

It reads like a fairy tale and will interest you from start to finish. If you are interested in British Columbia, if you realize you don't know as much about it as you should, it's your duty to let Moehle tell you. It will cost you 15 cents—and you'll get about a dollar's worth of other articles and interesting fiction thrown in.

KICK $5000 PEARL PENDANT AROUND

Bauble, Lost in Hotel, Finally Restored to Feminine Owner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—A $5000 pearl pendant was kicked about the lobby of the St. Francis Hotel for half an hour before it was returned to its owner's jewel casket and again nestled among diamonds and other precious stones that are valued around $100,000.

The pearl is the property of Mrs. Charles Sweeney, wife of the Spokane millionaire who recently abandoned that town for a residence in San Francisco, and who, a week ago, obtained a fifty-year lease on the old Occidental hotel site, where he purposes to erect a half-million dollar building.

The Sweeneys have occupied apartments at the St. Francis hotel, where they have entertained lavishly.

Last night they were among Mrs. Eleanor Martin's dinner guests. Shortly after dressing for the affair, Millionaire Sweeney, at his wife's request, went to the cashier's desk at the hotel and asked for his wife's jewelry.

He found a selection of jewel decorations for his wife and then displayed to a friend a magnificent string of diamonds frequently worn by Mrs. Sweeney. In some mysterious manner the pearl pendant was dropped from the jewel case and bounded noisily across the red rug that covers the office corridor floor.

Half an hour later C. E. Wentland of the Southern Pacific Land Department, happening to cross the hotel lobby toward the cashier's window, noticed the jewel lying on the floor near the porter's desk.

He had seen Millionaire Sweeney selecting his wife's jewelry, and promptly communicated with Sweeney. The pearl was reclaimed by Sweeney and returned to the jewel case.

While the pearl was vagantly lying on the floor at least fifty persons passed over it, oblivious of the fact that a $5000 gem was in easy reach.

HONOR ENLISTED MEN WHO RETIRE

Entire Regiment Turns Out in Full Dress at the Presidio.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—An unusual scene was witnessed yesterday at the Presidio when an entire regiment turned out on parade in full dress in honor of two of its enlisted men, who retire today, after thirty years' service in the United States army.

Quartermaster-Sergeant William Morrow, Company M, and Sergeant Joseph Shatschek, Company H, were paid this regimental tribute on the Presidio parade grounds in the presence of a large crowd of spectators.

The regiment was lined up before Colonel Cornelius Gardner, who was accompanied by Lieutenant-Colonel Kennedy and Adjutant-Captain C. M. Bunnell. The two retiring sergeants were escorted to the Colonel by the officers of the regiment.

The men took their places on the Colonel's right and left, standing at attention, watched the regiment pass in review.

The band played "Farewell, farewell." Company after company went by, each with a salute to the retiring non-commissioned officers. As the colors were carried past the Colonel and his two men saluted together in a silence that was pathetic.

At the close of the review Colonel Gardner shook hands with Morrow and Shatschek and wished them good luck and Godspeed from the regiment they had served so faithfully and so long.

Colonel Gardner has made a rule of paying his enlisted men this tribute of a full-dress parade on the day of their retirement after long service.

TO ERECT NEW SALT LAKE-OAKLAND LINE

RENO, Aug. 27.—J. J. Lynch, superintendent of construction for the Pacific division of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company, is here with linemen and carloads of heavy copper wire. The work of installing two new wires from Salt Lake City to San Francisco began yesterday by one of the four crews working westward out of Reno. Crews of nearly 100 men are operating from four different points along the 775 miles: two out of Reno, working each way, one from Oakland, the other from Salt Lake. It involves an expenditure of more than $100,000.

The wires may be transported so they may be used either for telegraph or telephone.

Motherhood

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. In Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes. Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores.

DENIES COLONEL CURBED MONOPOLY

Governor Marshall Declares the Progressive Platform Is Bid for Votes.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 27.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana opened his campaign, last night, with a speech devoted in great part to the tariff. In summing up his conclusions, the speaker asked:

"Why must the consumer always be the goat? I believe in vested rights, but I do not believe in vested wrongs. I do not particularly care for the manufacturer for getting all they can, but I contend that the profit of the industry is so plain that the blame is the people."

In part, Governor Marshall said: "It is idle for some men to make declarations. Broken promises are oftentimes eloquently stated in words."

"Who is going to believe the regular Republican organization when it declares to be opposed to special privilege? Who takes it seriously when it points with pride to its enactments to curtail monopoly?"

"Does any one doubt that for seven and one-half years the leader of the Progressive party was in power in this country? Can any one put his finger on a single effort made by him to curb the monopolistic tendency which was then rampant? Does any one believe that his platform, which was both for socialism and for a system of licensing and curbing, is anything more than a bid for votes?"

WAR DEBT PAID.

"I have lived long enough to follow the changing conditions advanced for the high protective tariff. I have found them all to be shifty, uncertain and honorable. First, it was to pay off the war debt by compelling the foreign manufacturer to contribute to the United States treasury, then it was to foster our infant industries, then to protect American labor against the pauper laborer of Europe, and finally in the last campaign, to equalize the cost of production at home and abroad. At last the frank statement was made that the government proposed to take its manufacturers into partnership with it, and that this partnership was proposed to sell to the consumers of this country all the necessities of life, except those grown on the farm, not for the benefit of the government, but for the benefit of the manufacturer."

GOVERNMENT "PARTNER."

"I, myself, have never been able to determine what system of business or ethics should induce a government to form a partnership with the man who made the cloth that is on my coat, while he is refusing to form a partnership with me, who buys the coat and wears it. It is not the business of government to form a partnership with any one unless it forms a partnership with all. The relentless cruelty to the consumer of the whole principle is revealed by the fact that the products are sold at least prices to the people abroad than to the people at home."

Surplus products, it is expressed, but is not explained why men go on from year to year making products in vast quantities that are not needed only to sell the surplus.

EXPERTS "TOO SLOW."

"The Republicans, both standpat and Progressives, have been responsible for this condition of affairs. I cannot say how soon these inequities can be adjusted and these burdens removed from the people, but I do say that boards and commissions experts are too slow; that it is the duty of the Congress of the United States to take the burden of high living from the people, and that the Democratic theory of tariff for revenue is the only desirable theory."

JAPAN MAY GET EQUAL SUFFRAGE

But Women of Nippon Will Not Get Ballot "Right Away."

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—Jinzo Naruse, founder and president of the Japan Women's University at Tokio, the first and largest institution of learning for women in the Japanese empire, and who is touring the world for the purpose of studying women's training, is in Los Angeles.

Dr. Naruse said he believed that in time women in Japan would be granted equal suffrage, but modified the statement by declaring he did not think they were fitted for voting there, and that the question of enfranchising women in Japan was one to be answered far in the future.

He said there were 1400 women students at the university, and that they were taught, among other things, horticulture, child study, sewing and conversation. He said he thought in time the general educational system in all countries would be practically the same.

DAUGHTER OF OLD FRENCH FAMILY DIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Camille Esteban Curtis, who died last Sunday afternoon at the Curtis residence, 508 Ashbury street, her death was caused by pneumonia and came unexpectedly after she had been thought recovered from the attack. She had been sick a week.

Mrs. Curtis, who came here ten years ago from New Orleans with her husband, was the daughter of Paul Zetehen and came of an old French family well known in the conservative circles of French society in this city.

She was born in the Southern city in 1853.

In San Francisco Mrs. Curtis lived a somewhat secluded life, and, although she had a small circle of warm friends, she was not active in social affairs. Besides her husband she leaves five children—Mrs. George Jennings of Mississippi City, Miss. and H. Taylor Curtis, Paul Curtis, Mrs. Camille Wolff and Miss Marian Curtis, all of this city.

SALE OF HARBOR BONDS DOES NOT TAKE PLACE

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 27.—Since it was evident that the bond house representatives present would not bid for the entire issue, the sale of $2,000,000 San Francisco harbor improvement bonds set for yesterday did not take place. The sale was postponed until October 1, the date for the disposing of the bonds.

Highway bonds which were set for yesterday were also postponed because of the same reason.

My employer (Lippincott & Co., Department Store, 306 to 314 Market street, Wilmington, Del.) recommended Eckman's Alternative and I began taking it at once. This was about June, 1908.
